From: David McKellar
To: Microsoft ATR
Date: 12/27/01 11:32am
Subject: Open is the solution

I am sure many other people will be making suggestions like this...
The answer for the Microsoft problem is to force them to release all details on all their file formats and protocols. In the future they should be barred from using proprietary format/protocols -- strictly ISO/ANSI/W3C standards. This would mean other companies (and non-profit groups) can fairly complete with the 800 pound gorilla Microsoft has become.

Do You Yahoo!?
Send your FREE holiday greetings online!
http://greetings.yahoo.com